

Effective May 25, 2018 GDPR Release statement

Thank you for being our valued customer. At Taylor Protocols, Inc., our mission is “Helping companies make stellar hires, reduce turnover and empower managers for more productive teams and higher profits. Everyone in the right seat, doing the right work, and loving it.” We accomplish this by providing you access to our platform and website in which your privacy, security and trust is essential. We would like to inform you that we’ve updated our Privacy Policy to meet GDPR requirements, effective May 25, 2018.

We believe in providing all our customers with increased value and good experiences with full transparency. We and all our users, regardless of whether they live in the EU or not, are compliant with the European Union's new data protection law, General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), the most stringent data protection law to date. We've updated some of our policies. The Privacy Policy is less legal-speak for clearer explanation of what data we collect, how we use it and the rights and tools that are available to you. Additionally, we have self-certificated with the EU-US Privacy Shield frameworks.

For most users, interaction with Taylor Protocols is in both taking the CVI and reviewing the resulting report. Our commitment to your privacy will continue to be paramount. Any information gathered from a company or individual is considered highly confidential and will absolutely not be released, sold, rented or otherwise distributed to any outside party. Our privacy policy updates will give you more clarity and control over how we collect and use your personal data when delivering our world-class products and services.

By continuing to use the Taylor Protocols website and its online services on or after May 25, 2018, you indicate that you have read, understand and accept the terms of the Taylor Protocols Privacy Policy.

We hope these updates improve your customer experience and reinforce our commitment to your data privacy and security. If you have any questions or comments, please write to us at support@taylorprotocols.com.

Thank you for being a valued Taylor Protocols Customer.